EMPOWERED MILLIONAIRE CREED – PRINCIPLE # 4

Today I am creative in making my life a masterpiece.

BE CREATIVE

TODAY I WILL MASTER THE WINNING DISCIPLINE OF . . .
LIVING THE HIGHEST VISION OF WHO I CHOOSE TO BE EVERY DAY.

“When your thoughts are clear and steadfast, begin to speak them as truths. Say them out loud. Use the great command that calls forth creative power: I am. Make I-am statements to others. ‘I am’ is the strongest creative statement in the universe. Whatever you think, whatever you say, after the words ‘I am’ sets into motion those experiences, calls them forth, brings them to you.”

CONVERSATIONS WITH GOD — NEALE DONALD WALSCH

During the spring of 2003, Julie Wilkins was a single mother with two young children to support. She earned barely enough income each month from her lowly administrative position for their basic needs, and certainly had little money left at the end of each paycheck for luxuries. Julie worried constantly about their future. She surely had no time to think about a life of abundance, especially with immediate bills to pay and hungry young mouths to feed.

One evening, Julie attended a seminar and heard an eloquent and evidently wealthy gentleman speak on the principle which states that DESIRE mixed with VIVID IMAGINATION and ACTION becomes MANIFEST. As she listened to the gentleman speak of prosperity being a creative process, Julie’s imagination was sparked by this concept. What if the things he said were true and Julie did indeed possess the power within herself to positively revolutionize her life?

Julie was determined to follow the Five-Step Process of Creation that he spoke of. So, during the course of the following weeks, she outlined her desires in precise detail, just as the gentleman had instructed.

To help in this process, Julie cut pictures from magazines depicting the end results she desired for all areas of her life. She arranged them in an inexpensive file folder — which the gentleman had suggested be termed a Master-Planner. To depict her new healthier self-image, Julie chose a picture of a cheerful mother, happy with her children. For her financial, material and career desires, she chose pictures that showed a new car, an exquisite looking home and a woman who had recently become vice-president of a large corporation. At the time, Julie was working for a company that had no female officers, and she wanted to be the first woman vice-president at that company. Julie also chose pictures of first-rate schools that her children would love to attend and selected pictures of the husband of her dreams — fit and handsome, with good hair and a million-dollar smile.

A few months went by, during which time — every day — Julie dutifully wrote her list of top goals on a fresh sheet of paper and stated a series of manifestations in alignment with the results she earnestly desired. Little by little, Julie discerned improvements in her life. First her boss noticed the extra effort she was giving to her tasks and she was promoted several levels above her current job. With this promotion came a substantial pay increase and an ease with making ends meet. She joined a health spa and began toning her body, and she observed that more men were interested in her than ever before.

One day, as she was driving to the spa, a gorgeous black Jaguar passed her by. The handsome driver smiled his million-dollar smile at Julie, and she smiled back. When Julie arrived at the spa, she was amazed to see that she had parked next to this same Jaguar and the man was just getting out of his car. He smiled at Julie again and introduced himself as Mike, a recent divorcee who has just moved to the neighborhood and was looking to make a fresh start. They started dating and their love soon blossomed. They celebrated a Christmas wedding and, for their honeymoon, Mike took Julie to the South Pacific island-paradise of Tahiti, with its warm crystal waters, idyllic ambiance and abundant opportunities for romantic times together.

Soon after they returned from their honeymoon, they moved into an exquisite home and the children started at their new first-rate school. Later still, Julie became the vice-president of human resources at the company where she worked. Mike and Julie know there are no impossible dreams and together have regularly updated their Master-Planner since they have been married. The oneness of the universe, for its part, continues to bless their lives with the demonstration of these powerful principles of manifestation at work.

Five-Step Process Of Creation

We come now to the most powerful part of the entire S2 program. In this module, the fourth on my journey to open the floodgates of abundance in my life, I shall go into an in-depth look at the actual process of creation — the practice that is the modern-day equivalent of alchemists striving to turn metal into gold, and succeeding!

As an Empowered Millionaire, one who is in complete control of my life and precisely directing my destiny, I know that I manifest my reality by creating at three levels:

- THINK... thought.

Everything I create begins with my thoughts about that thing, all my creations then move in harmony with my words, and all my creations are ultimately manifested through my deeds. That which I think of, but thereafter never speak of, creates at a low level. That which I think of and speak of, creates at a higher level. Yet that which I think of, speak of and do — with absolute faith in the successful result — manifests in my reality.

My thoughts concerning something are creative. On a similar vibrational frequency, my words spoken silently to myself are also creative. However, my words spoken out loud, with passion and fervor, vibrating at an intense frequency, are far more creative. And my actions, on the physical vibrational plane, are the most creative force of all. Let it be powerfully stressed here, that my thoughts and my words and my deeds, all energized in unison together, are most magnificently effective in giving birth to my reality.

One of the greatest secrets of success is that life is not a process of discovery, rather a process of creation. At every moment, I am not discovering myself, rather I am creating myself anew. I shall seek, therefore, not to discover who I am, but to create who I choose to be.

Here is the Empowered Millionaire's Five-Step Process of Creation that will enable me to create who I choose to be as my grandest and most magnificent image of myself:

- The first step is HIGHEST VISION. This is seeking to create the greatest version of the highest vision of who I choose to be. I shall use every moment to visualize the grandest image of who I choose to be. If I desire to be a supremely successful, elegantly dressed, well-heeled socialite, I shall seek to imprint into my mind an empowering picture of the greatest version of me thinking, speaking and acting only ever as the highest vision of this grandest image of me.
- The second step is HIGHEST THOUGHT. This is choosing to always think in an empowered way. This is monitoring my thoughts and conditioning my mind to think positively. Whenever I catch myself thinking disempowering thoughts, which is thinking that negates the highest vision of who I choose to be, I shall think again. Literally, if I think something that does not serve my grandest image or my most magnificent purpose, I shall think again — always choosing thoughts of a grander, more empowering nature.

- The third step is HIGHEST WORD. This is speaking my highest vision of myself as truths. The new me, the winner who I choose to be, I shall say this out loud as a declaration of the truth. All words, fervently stated as what is so, are answered. Every word, every statement, every feeling created by the positive energy of my voice, is creative. To the degree that it is fervently stated as the truth, to that degree shall it be made manifest in my experience.
- The fourth step is HIGHEST DEED. This is doing only those actions that accurately reflect my highest vision of who I choose to be. From this moment forth, there is only one reason to do anything: as the grandest statement of who I choose to be. At birth, I was given absolute freewill — the power to do as I choose — and this power shall remain with me always. Therefore, it is my choice to do only the highest actions that will result in the greatest outcomes in terms of what I seek.
- The fifth step is HIGHEST FAITH. This is being grateful before my creation is manifested. This is the ultimate key to my creative ability. This is absolute faith, which is supreme gratitude. Absolute faith is thankfulness in advance. When I thank in advance for that which I choose to experience in my reality, in effect I acknowledge that it is already here, right now. Thankfulness in advance is thus the most powerful statement I can make — an affirmation that even as I ask, my request has thus been granted.

What if I create something I do not desire — negative circumstances for example? Well, I now recognize that I always have the power to choose a new creation — one aligned with the greatest version of the highest vision of who I choose to be from this moment forth. So, I shall bless the old non-desirous reality and call forth a more splendid truth. I do this by thinking a new magnificent thought, saying a new empowering word and doing a new inspired deed. At every moment of my existence, I know that this is my supremely empowered choice.

The Two Inner Forces Of Creation

The Five-Step Process of Creation is an internal process, meaning all of its steps are first realized within the person before the results are made manifest in the external world. This can be likened to the process of composing music. Beethoven, possibly the world's greatest ever composer, wrote some of the most beautiful music ever heard — yet he was hearing-impaired and partially deaf to external sounds. This did not matter, though, because within his mind and within his soul, he could clearly hear each note in perfect detail. As such, every note of every piece of music he ever wrote was created first within himself before the music was ever played without.

As Beethoven, so too do I create my music, my most magnificent and most magical dreams, inside of myself before they manifest in the outer world. There are three key principles at work that help to fuel this manifestation — as was related in the story of Julie Wilkins.

- Desire
- Vivid Imagination
- Action

It All Begins With Desire

Desire is the first step toward the realization of anything, and is actually the starting point of all human accomplishment. The vast majority of people have no definite aims, no clear cut objectives in life — the most that many of these people do is merely wish for things, and 'wishing' has no power at all. Every person who reaches an age of understanding yearns to achieve certain things during his or her lifetime. But merely 'hoping' for these things will not have the slightest effect. Instead, having a burning desire for a more splendid life, creating a grand vision to see it as real in the mind's eye, naming the things wanted as definite goals, desiring the achievement of these goals with a positive expectancy that borders on obsession, planning definite written ways and means for their attainment, and then taking immediate, continuous action steps, this is the way to produce the desired result. This is the way that paves the road to achievement in life — and of these, the burning desire is of paramount importance.

EMPOWERED MILLIONAIRE INSIGHT

*My 'yearning' power plays a definite role in my 'earning' power.
Desire is this yearning power.
How badly do I really want it?*

Yes, achievement starts with desire, but desire is fueled by the use of vivid imagination. Successful men and women possess a number of valuable attributes, one of the most important being the ability to imagine that which they truly desire. Nothing is achieved that is not first conceived in the form of a vision, through the imagination, as a dream in someone's mind. Dreams are visions of the future, and achievers have visions for their life as they want it to be with confidence, anticipation and expectancy for a more wonderful future. The visions of achievers evolve and crystallize as their desires become stronger and stronger. A burning desire is the chief motivating force necessary to accomplish any dream, and when mixed with intense belief and ardent enthusiasm it becomes a passionate burning desire that is the launching pad from which the grandest aspirations really can be attained.

Vivid Imagination — The Window Of My Mind

My ability to accomplish anything I desire is limited only by the development and use of vivid imagination. Every wonderful and blessed thing I have ever yearned for is waiting within the window of my mind. All I have to do is use the power of vivid imagination to transform my desires into tangible reality. The imagination is literally the workshop of my mind, wherein are fashioned all the plans created by me. My faculty of vivid imagination is capable of turning my mind-energy into its physical reality and thereby giving shape to the impulses and desires I have. My imagination is such a powerful and fascinating force. I shall strengthen this energy by conceiving all the fanciful ideas I desire. Ideas are formed in the melting-pot of an active mind and are the end product of a vivid imagination. Ideas are intangible forces, yet they have more power than the thoughts that give birth to them — because they are capable of being passed from one individual to another, giving them the power to live on long after the mind that created them has returned to dust.

EMPOWERED MILLIONAIRE INSIGHT

The man who has no imagination also has no wings.

I have complete control over my imagination — I can remember any past memories I choose to or I can rehearse any future I desire. When I acknowledge the empowering achievements from my past, I am building an image of myself as a competent person, thereby forming a solid base for my future actions. When a positive future is projected by my imagination, confident feelings arise, affirming that my desires will come to fruition. A positive image of my future is a roadmap showing me how to get there, mentally guiding me toward the attainment of my dreams. As Albert Einstein said: “Logic will get you from A to B. Imagination will take you everywhere.”

On Wings Of Infinity

The ability to manifest any yearning — perfectly, effortlessly, instantaneously — begins and ends with perfect thought, which is the result of desire and imagination in harmonious alignment. This is illustrated in the delightful book, Jonathan Livingston Seagull, written by Richard Bach, which tells the story of an eager seagull in search of the most profound truths. In this enlightening abridged passage, Jonathan is learning one such revealing insight:

Jonathan asked, "Chiang, this world isn't heaven at all, is it?" The Elder smiled in the moonlight. "You are learning again, Jonathan Seagull," he said.

"Well, what happens from here? Where are we going? Is there no such place as heaven?" "No, Jonathan, there is no such place. Heaven is not a place, and it is not a time. Heaven is being perfect." The Elder was silent for a moment. "You are a very fast flier, aren't you?"

"I . . . I enjoy speed," Jonathan said, taken aback but proud that the Elder had noticed. "You will begin to touch heaven, Jonathan, in the moment that you touch perfect speed. And that isn't flying a thousand miles an hour, or a million, or flying at the speed of light. Because any number is a limit, and perfection doesn't have limits. Perfect speed my son, is being there."

Without warning, Chiang vanished and appeared at the water's edge fifty feet away, all in the flicker of an instant. Then he vanished again and stood, in the same millisecond, at Jonathan's shoulder. "It's kind of fun," he said.

Jonathan was dazzled. He forgot to ask about heaven. "How do you do that? What does it feel like? How far can you go?"

"You can go to any place and to any time that you wish to go," the Elder said. "I've gone everywhere and every when I can think of." He looked across the sea. "It's strange. The gulls who scorn perfection for the sake of travel go nowhere, slowly. Those who put aside travel for the sake of perfection go anywhere, instantly. Remember, Jonathan, heaven isn't a place or a time, because place and time are so meaningless."
