MODULE 4.3

ACHIEVEMENT FACTORS

“Desire.

That's the one secret of every man's career.

Not education. Not being born with hidden talents.

Desire.”

BOBBY UNSER

For me to manifest outstanding success within my professional life, I must first know what I truly desire to achieve career wise and I must wholeheartedly know what I truly love doing within my chosen vocation. For example, if my five-year career objective is to be earning an annual income of $250,000 by the fifth year, how much do I actually love doing what I will have to do to earn this money? In other words, what are the motivating forces — or Achievement Factors — that ignite my fires of desire, push my hot-button and keep me driving toward maximum career success?

My professional success, as the maxim so eloquently expresses, comes from doing what I love and loving what I do. It is the strength of my love, my burning desire — what we will term here ‘professional ambition’ — that determines how successful I will be in my career. My professional ambition fuels me with immense power — and the degree to which I am professionally ambitious will determine the level of my ultimate career success. However, my professional ambition in turn is fueled by my Achievement Factors. And these factors dictate my level of desire. To be ‘burning hot’ for my career, I must first know what tasks I love doing, what targets I love aiming for, what circumstances I love creating, what environment I love working in, what people I love being around — what turns me on professionally?

It's Day 54 . . . I'm empowered for life!

Create A Magnificent And Compelling Career

My professional ambitions, together with my grandest career vision, contain within them the force to inspire my actions and direct my destiny. Now is the time for me to take the reins — by way of writing dozens and dozens of compelling Achievement Factors — and plan where I want my career to go. I must grab hold of the power that is created when I have an inspiring vocation that empowers me into action. Once I make the decision to unleash this source of phenomenal personal energy, I will be unstoppable in creating professional abundance beyond my wildest fantasies. Whether my career aspirations materialize instantly, or manifest gradually over time, know that the only limit to what I can achieve professionally is governed by the size of my imagination, the measure of my Achievement Factors List and the level of my commitment to reaching my professional ambitions.

Empowered Millionaires possess a range of valuable attributes. One of the most significant is the ability to visualize that which they absolutely desire and have it solidify into an inspiring objective. It is true that nothing is achieved by man in this world that is not first conceived in the form of an idea, as a tangible reality, within the mind. Ambitious professionals have visions for the magnificent career they aspire to — with hope, eager anticipation and confidence for a superior future. The professional ambitions of successful people evolve and crystallize as their career desires become stronger. Desire is the motivating force necessary to accomplish any ambition. When mixed with intense belief and ardent enthusiasm, it becomes a passionate burning desire that is the launching pad from which the most outstanding aspirations can all be reached.

Most people spend more time planning their vacations than they spend planning their vocations. By failing to plan, they are actually planning to fail. Because, if individuals don't plan their professional lives, circumstances will overtake them and orchestrate their careers in a multitude of ineffective, unproductive and tedious directions.

It's Day 54 . . . I'm empowered for life!

Now is the time for me to take command and plan where I want my career to go. I must utilize my supreme power — the power that is created when I have professional ambitions that inspire me into enthusiastic action. Once I choose to unleash this mighty force within, I will become a vital powerhouse in creating professional abundance beyond my wildest fantasies.

Whether my career aspirations materialize instantly or take shape gradually over time, I know that the only limit to what I can achieve during my lifetime is governed by the size of my imagination, the measure of my Achievement Factors and the level of my commitment to fulfilling my professional objectives. As Anthony Robbins stated: “You possess a lamp that is not limited to a mere three wishes.” In the tale Aladdin and the Magic Lamp, all that Aladdin has to do is rub the lamp and a genie appears who will grant him three wishes. Can I understand that my list of Achievement Factors has the power of a magic lamp, but with an unlimited number of wishes that can be granted? Right now is the time for me to write my list of factors and summon the force within my soul that will manifest a magnificent and compelling professional future.

Create My Achievement Factors List As A Blockbuster Movie Script

Imagine a thrilling blockbuster movie with me in the starring role: The Life and Times of an Empowered Millionaire. This is how my life can be. Just think of my Achievement Factors List as the script for a movie about my ideal career. In this movie, I am the writer, director and producer, so I have the power to take the movie in any direction I choose. If desired, I can pack the script with many monumental achievements and professional highlights. My imagination is the only limit to how scintillating this movie can be. Remember this: It is far better to aim for the stars and hit the moon, than stay on the ground and end in the dirt! Stanton Kirkham Davis said this: “The vision that you glorify in your mind, the ideal that you enthrone in your heart, this you will build your life by, this you will become.”

It's Day 54 . . . I'm empowered for life!

I shall plan my professional life around my Achievement Factors and develop my career like the thrilling blockbuster movie it was meant to be — with high pay, multiple channels of residual income, all-expenses-paid trips and lavish perks as my rewards. Conversely, if I live my life without any professional ambitions, I am apt to work in mediocre surroundings, with low income, no promotions and multiple occupational disappointments. Remember, it is always my choice. I begin comprehensively fulfilling this choice when I take the time to create an expansive and stimulating Achievement Factors List that can positively transform my career and take it to the next level of professional achievement.

I Am In Charge Of My Professional Destiny

All achievements in the professional world are the result of first knowing what is desired and then aligning one's actions with the intended result. As such, I shall develop the winning discipline of studying my Achievement Factors List on a regular basis. This will keep me on the right track to where I say I want to go and will generate feelings of incredible enthusiasm that I have so many magnificent professional aspirations still to achieve. I know that I am empowered by moving ahead to a glorious future, one in which my most spectacular career aspirations are accomplished, so I move ever onwards fulfilling my professional ambitions as I go. Worry, fear and despondency are all left in the dust as I go forward, marching in alignment with my colorful, triumphant and fulfilling vocation.

No man but himself can decide to choose a thought, state a word or conduct a deed. Therefore, every man is in charge of his own professional destiny and no man but himself can positively transform his career circumstances. This is the same for me as it is for any man: If it is to be, it is up to me! Whatever my occupation may presently be, I will rise or fall, strengthen or weaken, dependent on the power of my mind and the strength of my professional ambitions. It is a fact that I cannot feel severely depressed in my work if I have many stimulating and rewarding things to look forward to. Once I have diligently written my Achievement Factors List, this will provide the necessary spark to set my professional life on fire and will be the catalyst that speeds me along the exciting road to the destination of ultimate career empowerment.

To attain any of the professional ambitions listed among my own personal Achievement Factors, I don't need to start with a high-flyer's income, I don't need to begin with a high-brow education and I don't need to know any high-powered contacts. Instead, what I do need is to raise my self-imposed limits, instill heightened self-belief and take enthusiastic action, starting today, one step at a time, toward creating the career circumstances I most earnestly desire. Once I can view myself as the one totally responsible for my professional life, the greater control I will have over the occupational aspirations I want to attain. More and more, I will see professional accomplishment with increased clarity. More and more, I will discover career possibilities...
